

Partnering to Build Your Custom Solution Right

Managing Every Move with OEM Program Management

When working with OEM Solutions to build your project, there will be constant communication back and forth between your team and our team. Our Program Managers excel in navigating complexity in your design and fulfilment solution. We are here to simplify for you and to help you augment your staff using Dell Technologies experts across all functions and industries.

Our program management is meant to help your business succeed. We do that by...

Compressing your time to market

Innovate faster and execute globally with Dell OEM Solutions. By running your IP on pre-configured custom-engineered hardware and capitalizing on our sophisticated and secure supply chain to manufacture close to your customers, we will help to sustain your success and grow your business all across the world.

Allowing you to operate at scale

However big your organization gets Dell OEM Solutions is there by your side. Leveraging our multi-billion-dollar procurement engine for components and finished goods, you can carry zero inventory and expand your capacity as needed.

Breaking down silos

Everyone wins when innovation is allowed to thrive across business units. Our team will augment your staff, helping you to design for the future with “art of the possible” guidance. Using our mature processes across the entire value chain, your organization will be operating like a Fortune 50 company in no time.
