More than half of the world’s population is urbanized, making it hard to imagine a world where 75% of the energy consumed and 80% of the world’s GDP are generated by cities. As cities continue to grow, they must use data, communications, and technology to transform themselves to meet the demands of a growing population.

Smar t City Solutions of Today

1.6x higher performance

When compared to the Dell XR7620 server, the Dell XR5610 server offers higher performance.

3.0x higher performance

When compared to the Dell XR11 server, the Dell XR3610 server offers higher performance.