ASIS CPE Courses
Offered by Dell Technologies

How to build a smart strategy for Security Unstructured Data
Credit: 0.5 ASIS CEC

Up to 85% of enterprises consider security data as mission critical, leading to a repatriation of the cloud due to concerns over operational, intellectual property and privacy concerns. End users have shifted from a cloud first strategy to a cloud smart strategy. In this ASIS accredited course, you will learn about the latest cloud trends and the impact it will have on the cloud offerings from the security industry.

Schedule the course

Tips for Leveraging AI in the Security Industry
Credit: 1 ASIS CEC

AI is transforming the world and the security industry has a front row seat to this transformation. Video contains some of the most meta data being harvested by organizations and stakeholders are looking to leverage this data for business outcomes. In this ASIS CPE accredited course, you will learn about some of the current trends in data science and how designing solutions with AI in mind you can help you complete projects more efficiently and deliver meaningful business outcomes for your end users.

Schedule the course

Mission Critical Architecture for Surveillance
Credit: 1 ASIS CEC

Today most enterprise end users consider their security data as mission critical to the organization. This course will demonstrate how to build a robust architecture to support the emerging needs of the business while maintaining six nines of availability, mitigating unwelcome down time. This architecture will also aid in achieving sustainability goals, provide cyber protection as well offer the ability to accelerate AI project deployments.

Schedule the course